

COSMIC PRIZE

What makes you say that a thing-situation-event-creation is Cosmic? It is something which goes beyond the parameters we are used to and which are given by the contingency, by our generation, epoch, planet.

The Arthur Cravan Foundation, in the occasion of Cosmic Things #3 will award a funding for the realization of a project which can be defined as Cosmic, and that has the following characteristics: it shouldn't have aim and function nor objective or justification; in short it must not be dependable and justifiable in the economic, moral or artistic points of view. All this but with a high content of future vision.

All the projects will be presented to the public during Cosmic Things #3 and the last day the winner will be proclaimed by a jury of scientist, critics, artists, boxers and collectors.

We disclose that the jury's members will have a fundamental role. They will not only have the responsibility of choosing the winning project: they will contribute to increase the prize amount (juror supporter €50, juror senior €20, Juror enthusiast €5, juror without portfolio €2).

To each judge will be given a certificate recognizing that he/she has contributed to the realization of a Cosmic thing.

The deadline for submitting projects is 26 September 2012.
e-mail: mail@cosecosmiche.org or at Galleria Artra, via Burlamacchi 1, Milano.

Sponsored by COSE COSMICHE & Arthur Cravan Foundation

COSE COSMICHE/COSMIC THINGS

"The stars are matter,

We're matter,

But it doesn't matter." – Don Van Vliet (Captain Beefheart)

A platform in which artists, scientists and researchers of various fields are asked to present a reflection, a thought on space, time, energy, matter, void. Through language we have defined the universe in which we live in with concepts like space, time, matter, energy. Cose Cosmiche will be developing in three moments to give the invited researchers the opportunity to know each other and to interact for collaborations and productions that will be presented in the next stages.

Curated by di Helga Franza e Silvia Hell. Supported by Arthur Cravan Foundation and Galleria Artra, Milano.
